1810 From the sounds of firing grenade blasts and screaming and yelling in the village the guerrillas are clearing the community buildings from north to south and will shortly control most of "Q" outside the compound. Trucks are heard approaching the village from the east along the road track.

1820 Firing is renewed to the east of the village toward Farm "Q" and the mortar fire on the SD Compound is resumed. The SD man in the watchtower is killed and one man on the machine gun is wounded. The SD Control Post Building receives a direct mortar hit putting the radio out of action and setting the roof of the building on fire. A force of about fifteen guerrillas again attempt to storm the SD Compound but are driven off.

1830 The mortar fire lifts and a lull in the small arms firing follows. The sound of trucks backing up and turning around accompanied by considerable shouting of commands is heard in the area of the storehouse.

1845 The watchtower is manned against several BAR magazines are loaded with tracers. The bazooka is assembled and the supply of twenty rounds of 3.5" ammunition readied.

The storehouse is taken under fire by the bazooka and tracer fire from the two BAR's. Several hits are scored, by the bazooka on the storehouse, and two fires are started in the building. The firing continues until the bazooka ammunition is exhausted.
